HOUSEHOLD BREVITIES.

—For a good stove polish in the form of a powder, use good quality plumba-go, applied with a stiff brush.—Scientific American.

-Lemon Jelly Filling .- One-half pint of sweet milk, one egg or yolks of two, one teaspoonful of corn-starch, one tablespoonful of flour, two tablespoonfuls of sugar, the juice and grated rind of one lemon. Cook like boiled custard. -Boston Budget.

-Nice Dressing. -Cut bread into ices, then into small dice-shaped pieces, then into small dice-snaped pieces, put in butter, salt and pepper, a tiny bit of sage, the merest flavor of onion, mix, put in three eggs. For nice turkey gravy, make as usual, and just before taking up put in one quart of oysters.—Detroit Free Press.

-Pie With Two Crusts.-Pare, quar-—Pie With Two Crusts.—Pare, quarter and core tart apples and lay them closely together in a deep pie plate lined with paste. Season with sugar, a piece of butter as large as a hickory nut, whatever spice or extract one prefers, and a little water. After adding the upper crust sift pulverized sugar over the top and bake forty minutes.—Boston Globe. Boston Globe.

—Thin muslin or lawn dresses will be stiffened and cleansed by washing them in bran-water. Boil two quarts of wheat bran in agallon and a half of water for half an hour. Strain this through a towel and add to the water for washing. Avoid the use of soap or starch if possible. A little of the branwater may be stirred in the rinsing water or the goods rinsed lightly in pure -Thin muslin or lawn dresses will ter or the goods rinsed lightly in pure water.—N. Y. World.

-An experienced housekeeper once well said: "I never throw away a single potato which is left over; there is always some use for it. If even one or two only are left, I grate them and use them to thicken soup. If more, they can be sauteed the next morning for breakfast, or cut into dice and heated up with hot milk into which some salt and a piece of butter has been added. By putting them into a hot oven and allowing the milk to be partly absorbed by the potatoes, this makes a very good plain dish."

—Chocolate Layer Cake.—Make a cream sponge with two eggs, one cup sugar, one-half cup sweet cream, one cup flour, one heaping teaspoonful cup nour, one neaping teaspoon-baking powder and one-half teaspoon-ful salt. Bake. Beat whites of two eggs (but not as for frosting), adding two tablespoonfuls sugar for each egg. Grate in chocolate sufficient for taste and color, add a few drops vanilla and spread between layers and on top.
When making this I often take three eggs, using two yelks and one whole egg for the cake, reserving the whites for frosting.—Orange Judd Farmer.

-A Fruit Pudding.-This is Mrs. Lincoin's way of making an apricot pud-ding, but any kind of fruit can be used as well: Boil one cupful of rice fifteen minutes, or steam till tender. Wring small pudding cleths, two-thirds of a yard square, out of hot water, and lay them over a small half-pint bowl. Spread the rice one-third of an inch thick over the cloth. Put an apricot in the center, filling the cavity in each half apricot with rice. Draw the cloth around till the apricot is covered smoothly with rice. Tie tightly and steam ten miautes. Remove the cloth carefully and turn the balls out on a platter and serve with sauce, for which yard square, out of hot water, and lay platter and serve with sauce, for which take one cup apricot juice, one half-cup sugar, one teaspoonful corn starch or sugar, one teaspoonth corn starch or flour. Boil all together for five minutes and strain. Use any kind of fruit juice or sirup in this same way for sauce.—Chicago Herald.

AUTUMN GOWNS.

Styles and Materials Now Coming Into

Favor. French dresses imported for autumn and early winter are new versions of the elaborate corsages and very plain skirts now in favor. Seamless waists, fanciful coats, princesse gowns with corselets, and bodices trimmed to sug-rest suspenders or with a vest volce. gest suspenders, or with a vest, yoke, plastron, or guimpe, all reappear, each with some fresh touch that makes a difference between the old and the new. Collars are again cut high, and are close rather than flaring. There are many fancy sleeves softly bouffant at the top, and odd sleeves of velvet or silk are again seen in wool gowns. But the lego'-mutton sleeves still prevail, whether matching the waist or of different material; and bishop sleeves are made wider than ever, to droop over close cuffs that are usually richly trimmed.

The skirts of many new gowns are usually without a foundation skirt. They are fitted plainly at the top, are full and long at the back, and are lined throughout. The French skirt all in the property with a bias second down the one piece, with a bias seam down the back, is most often seen. There are also many cloth skirts with the back breadth set in cornerwise, with a point at the top, making a seam on each side, and leaving very graceful bias folds down the back. The newest borders for the foot of skirts are widest in front, narrowing gradually to a point in the back, and thus accentuating the ap-pearance of length—an effect which is still sought after.

still sought after. Tailors continue to make Louis coats and the habit bodices with postilion back, which it is there mission to fit with absolute perfection. With these are suede leather vests in a single piece, fitting as if molded over the bust, and fastened invisibly. Leather buttons in barrel shape, or in flat disks with metal rings are stellwith metal rims, are on tailor gowns. Round or bluntly pointed waists, with draped front and plaited back, irregularly shaped girdles, and new plastrons, are also made by tailors. Roughsurfaced bourette wools, and others with long silky pile of the fleece of the Thibet goat, rival the familiar serges, tweed and cheviot. A novelty is ombre stripes of fleecy wool on cloth ground, to be combined with smooth-faced cloths in very handsome gowns. The color-ing in these cloths is charming, as turquoise with reseda, rose with beige, fawn with lavender. Green is still de-clared to be "the color of the season" in Paris. The new red is taureau-a vivid Spanish shade much used as parts of costumes-and garnet tints are said to be coming into favor once more .-
